THE MOSAIC INSTITUTE

Back to School Newsletter

NEXT GENERATION HAS YOU COVERED

Dedicated Educators,

This year, we are so excited to share our resources on teaching for peace & justice in your virtual, in-person or hybrid classrooms. This back to school year is filled with challenges that are impossible to navigate alone. We hope to continue supporting inspiring & dedicated educators like yourself so that we can re-imagine what education looks like this school year - together.

We have recently developed a NEW Digital Learning Hub that allows students to engage with the Next Gen program online and collaborate with young change makers across Canada. The Hub also offers professional development learning opportunities for teachers to become a Next Gen certified educator starting in 2021. We are looking for educators who would like to pilot the Hub and test it out with their students before we launch in 2021! Contact us to learn more.

Re-Imagining Schools

This month, we attended The Institute for Canadian Citizenship's 6Degrees Conference. Next Gen Program Manager, Erica Altomare led a coffee house discussion on re-imagining education & re-thinking what education is for during this time. Learn more and join the conversation by checking out our socials!

The Next Generation program supports young people with the tools to dismantle prejudice, address root causes of conflict, and become leaders for a most just world.

Through our partnerships with educators across the country, we offer free interactive workshops, online learning modules, educator resources and professional development opportunities that are all rooted in trauma-informed, culturally relevant + responsive, anti-racist and anti-oppressive frameworks.
